"Quiet" room

Due to the noiseless chilled beam air conditioning and fresh air systems, the interior was so quiet that any small sound would be a distraction, and any conversations would be easily overheard. As with other "green" buildings, installing a Soundmask system throughout each high rise tower introduced a comfortable background sound to reduce distracting noise and create speech privacy in an energy efficient manner.

Consisting of two nine-storey buildings and built to accommodate over 4,500 staff, the Bank's ultra-efficient design achieved a 6 Green Star and 5 star NABERS rating.
